- How supportive the staff are
- The care they give to our children, the curriculum meetings for parents, the love of reading books, the play equipment and forest school provision
- Lovely school with a family feel
- Its collaborative and supportive approach with parents, Its nurturing approach with children
- The teachers and how they keep you updated
- The teachers and staff who genuinely care

These comments are amazing. A big thank you from us all.

In response to some of your comments about what you would like to review.

- More electronic communication. This is something we will try to improve next year and will aim to send links to all the home learning ideas and topic plans also each term via the text service.
- What topic or books are the focus for the week/term. These are already included on the Topic Webs which can be found on the school website under the curriculum tab. Topic webs and home learning ideas are shared via the website every term. These will give you more of an idea of what your child is being taught and how you can support at home.
- More information of child's progress and what they are taught
Schools have a duty to inform parents of progress either in written form or through consultation 3 times a year. We currently have two consultation meetings and one written report. If you would like to discuss how your child is getting on more frequently then please arrange an appointment with the class teacher through the school office.
